Tactical Hapkido world premier in Best Defense hosted by Darryl Johnson Update!

As many members of the Academy may know, the executive producer of Best Defense Darryl Johnson and his film crew finished filming two episodes at our school in July premiering Tactical Hapkido with Grandmaster Rodemaker, Master Doug Brown and Master James Ziots.

The planned release date has been bumped to mid September due to a special sports program hosted by Jim Brown and Paul Warfield called Sports Reel. We will let you know as soon as the show is aired. You can view the current shows by visiting www.mogulsinc.com.

Tactical Hapkido Wikipedia Project

Editors of the world's largest online encyclopedia have accepted the entry of Tactical Hapkido. The article submitted by Master James Ziots details some of history, systematizing of techniques and description of Tactical Hapkido System overall. As soon as more sources are verified and collected, there will also be a biographical entry for Grandmaster Barry Rodemaker.

Current Promotions

The best advertisement is by reputation and word of mouth.

As such, for any current member of the Tactical Martial Arts Academy who brings in a new student that joins the academy we are offering a free class per new student. Bring in one student you get one free class, if you bring in four; well that is four free classes.

Official Tactical Hapkido Alliance videos and clothing line available.

Even though it is not required in the academy to wear uniforms, we would like to inform all members that there are whole hosts of training DVD's, books, shirts, hooded sweatshirts and pant available to all members.
